↑ 'JACK' BOOKCASE
by Michael Anastassiades

Michael Anastassiades' debut design for B&B Italia, this modular bookcase system comes with just as much technological finesse as the minimalist lighting fixtures for which the Cyprus-born, London-based designer is known. Offering a new take on the classic 1950s room-divider bookcase, the 'Jack' system is available in 14 different heights and boasts a discreet telescopic adjustment mechanism to make sure it fits perfectly wherever it is installed. Anastassiades has subtly concealed the engineered supports holding up the laminated shelves within the system's vertical, extruded aluminium elements. The shelves come in two lengths, and the bookcase is available in chalk white and black, both in a muted matt finish. 'Jack' bookcase, price on request, by Michael Anastassiades, for B&B Italia, bebitalia.com

← 'GEMINI' SWIVEL CHAIR
by UNStudio/Ben van Berkel

First launched in 2014, the asymmetrical 'Gemini' chair is now available in a swivel version. Offered with either a right or left slant, it can be upholstered in one or two colours, from a vast selection. A small round side table can also be attached. 'Gemini' swivel chair, from £1,150, by UNStudio/Ben van Berkel, for Artifort, artifort.com

→ 'TGV' LAMP
by Ionna Vautrin

Originally designed to illuminate the tables of high-speed trains travelling from Paris to Toulouse and Bordeaux, Ionna Vautrin's 'TGV' lamp for the SNCF is now available for domestic use. Three colours – khaki, white and anthracite – have been added to the original red and blue used in trains. 'TGV' lamp, €295, by Ionna Vautrin, for Moustache, moustache.fr

■ 'PIVOT' DESK
by Giacomo Moor

Designer and carpenter Giacomo Moor's elegant desk for new Milanese brand SEM takes its name from the pivot mechanism of its compartment doors. Mounted directly onto the frame, the construction obviates the need for hinges, reducing the structure to its raw essentials. Crafted by Fonderia Artistica Battaglia, the etched brass doors are available in a choice of four patinas, and they adorn a pair of lacquered containers, supported by two stone elm shelves on a frame made of acid-etched brass tubes. Moor's 'Pivot' collection also includes a matching bookcase, two types of consoles, a storage unit and a small table. 'Pivot' desk, €6,800, by Giacomo Moor, for SEM, sem-milano.com
